Change in the Name and Benchmark Index of the Nordea Pro Finland Fund

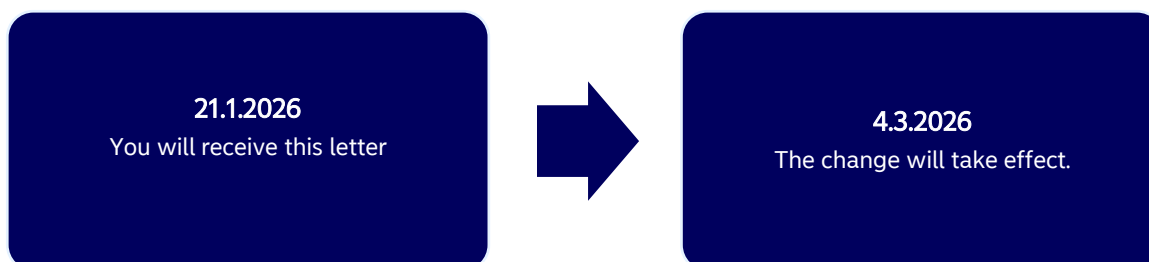

Dear Nordea Pro Finland unit holder,

We are writing to inform you about an upcoming change in your fund. The name of the Nordea Pro Finland fund will be changed to Nordea Finnish Enhanced. At the same time, the fund's benchmark index will be updated. With this change, we aim to ensure that your investment remains up to date and continues to offer the best opportunities in line with market developments.

Summary of the change:

- The fund's name will be updated:
Nordea Pro Finland → Nordea Finnish Enhanced
The new name better reflects the fund's investment strategy.
- The benchmark index will be updated:
OMX Helsinki Benchmark CAP GTR → OMX Helsinki Cap GI (HEXYP Index).
- No action is required from you:
Your investment continues as normal — the change does not require any measures on your part.

Schedule

Does the change require any action?

The fund's new name and the change of the benchmark index will take effect on 4.3.2026. These changes do not require any action from you. The Finnish Financial Supervisory Authority has approved the changes to the fund's name and rules.

Why is the name being changed?

We continuously develop our funds to provide you with up-to-date and attractive investment opportunities.

With this change, we aim to harmonize and clarify fund names. In addition, the Nordea Pro Finland fund is managed according to the Enhanced product strategy, which means that the new name "Nordea Finnish Enhanced" better reflects the fund. Enhanced funds are actively managed funds, but their level of activeness — that is, the deviation from the benchmark — is relatively small. Nordea's Enhanced funds are equity funds that offer an alternative to traditional passive and active funds. Their objective is to provide better returns than the index, while maintaining lower costs.

Why is the benchmark index changing?

The new benchmark index provides a broader investment universe, as the maximum weight of a single company decreases from 9 percent to 7 percent. This supports the fund's investment strategy.

Trading the fund units

You can trade units of the Nordea Pro Finland fund as usual. Any exceptions to the fund's trading days will be announced at: <https://nordeafunds.com/fi/poikkeukset-rahastojen-aukioloajoissa>.
